In Collaboration with College Development Council, Dibrugarh University,
IQAC, Borholla College, Department of Geography,
Mariam College and Cinnamora College, Jorhat, Assam.

As all of you know that recent pandemic situation has stopped all types of mass gathering including academic conferences, seminars etc. therefore at present circumstances online conference / webinar has become one of the best platforms for sharing knowledge and research findings of research scholars, academicians and students etc. from their respective fields.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE
Borholla College is a premier institution of entire Borholla area, affiliated to Dibrugarh University and enlisted under UGC-2(F) & 12 (B) Act. The college is located about 40 km distance from district headquarter of Jorhat and close proximity to Naga EBHs, which is one of the offshoots of Himalayan mountain system. Borholla area is well known for production of good quality rice, tea, vegetables etc. and also for extraction of coal and petroleum. The college was established in the year 1990 and started its glorious journey as Arts Degree College.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT
The department of Geography is established in 1990. Now the department is offering honours and core courses using modern method of teaching techniques. Geoinformatics techniques are also taught for the greater benefit of the students.

OBJECTIVES
Environmental degradation indicates over all lowering of environment qualities because of adverse changes brought in by human activities in the basic structure of the environment. Healthy environment is very essential whether physical or social for fruitful development of a nation. Environmental degradations are one of the primary causes of disease, health issues and long-term livelihood impact for India. It stands as a major challenge for India to maintain balance with development. Such circumstances have also caused the question of sustainability of the nation. On the other hand disasters (mainly human induced) booming up the problem further. The country has to face sizeable number of natural and human induced disasters, which causes heavy loss to property, lives and economy. Therefore the main objective of the seminar is to highlight all these vital issues in Indian perspective.
